

Contingent Tenants Liability

It is hereby noted and agreed that this policy is extended to include tenants or occupiers of the premises as assured as though a separate policy has been issued to each of them in the event of disputes or action arising between them, subject to the term and conditions exceptions and limitations of the policy.

Provided always that the existence of this clause shall not be made known tenants or occupiers or prospective tenants or occupiers without prior written approval from the insurers.